

MEDIATION SUPPORT UNIT

The Mediation Support Unit (MSU) in the Policy and Mediation Division of the Department of Political and Peacebuilding Affairs (DPPA) is the system-wide service provider on dialogue and mediation assistance providing comparative analysis, support in developing mediation strategies and direct operational and mediation assistance. MSU oversees the Standby Team of Senior Mediation Advisers (SBT), the Secretary-General’s High-Level Advisory Board on Mediation and a roster of mediation support experts.

The Department mobilizes voluntary contributions from Member States through its Multi-Year Appeal (MYA) that calls for $135 million for 2020 to 2022. The work of MSU relies heavily on MYA resources.

MSU’s Mediation Guidance documents cover a range of mediation topics, including the principles of mediation; gender and inclusion; natural resource conflicts; and addressing conflict-related sexual violence in mediation start-up guidelines.

MSU has developed a Digital Toolkit for Mediators to help mediators make full use of the opportunities presented by technologies, while also addressing ongoing concerns such as misinformation or malicious use of the cyberspace.

MSU is a member of several mediation networks, including the Group of Friends on Mediation; the Mediation Support Network; and the meetings of various regional organizations.

MSU puts inclusion front and center in its efforts to promote and support peace to ensure the views and needs of conflict parties and other stakeholders are represented and integrated into a peace process.

MSU takes deliberate efforts to intensify support and engagement at the local levels to help build peace from the ground up.

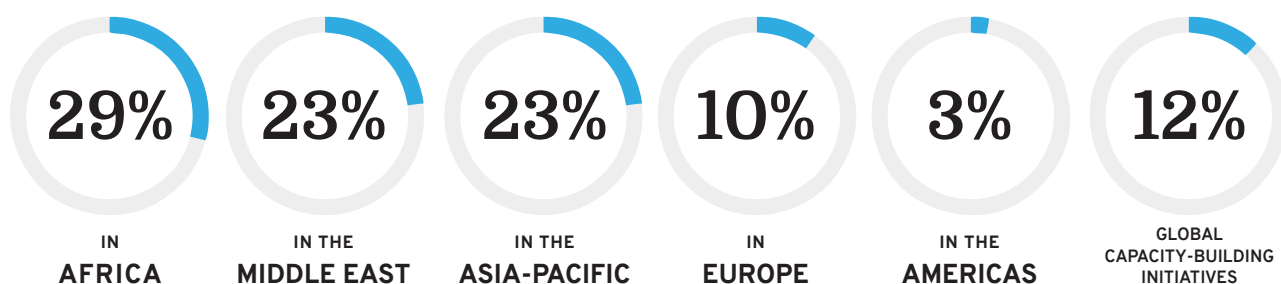

The UN Peacemaker is the UNDP/PPA online mediation support tool. It includes the first database of peace agreements searchable by key thematic issue. peacemaker.un.org
